Bridges, Two Aides Are Indicted by U. S. Grand Jury

Charges Are for Perjury and Conspiracy and Date Back to '45 Hearing

San Francisco, May 26 (AP)—Harry Bridges, leftwing West coast labor leader, and two of his top aides were indicted by a federal grand jury yesterday on perjury and conspiracy charges stemming from Bridges' citizenship hearing in 1945.

The Immigration Service immediately filed a civil complaint seeking to revoke Bridges' citizenship. This action declared Bridges was not only a Communist at the time he became a citizen, but still is.

Many West coast observers interpreted this double-barreled action as signaling the start of a third government attempt in 10 years to deport the 47-year-old, Australian-born Bridges. He is president of the C.I.O. International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

Indicted with him were J. R. Robertson, first vice-president of the I.L.W.U., and Henry Schmidt, member of the Longshoremen's Labor Relations Committee and former president of Bridges' local here. Bail for each was set at $5,000.

The union promptly assailed the indictments as "a political frameup" by the Truman administration and an attempt to put the union out of business.

One count charged the three conspired against the immigration laws by fraudulently obtaining naturalization for Bridges on September 7, 1945. Another count charged Bridges with perjury in denying that he was then, or ever had been, a member of the Communist party.

The third count charged Schmidt and Robertson with perjury. It accused them of testifying falsely that Bridges had not been a member of the Communist party.

Bridges was in New York, he went there after a recent stormy session of the C.I.O. executive council in Washington at which he and other left wing leaders were told to get in line with C.I.O. policies or get out. The union said he would leave New York today for San Francisco.

Robertson was reported in San Francisco and a union attorney said he would surrender today. Schmidt, who has been directing the Hawaiian waterfront strike, surrendered to the U. S. marshal at Honolulu.

Conviction on the charges carries a possible maximum penalty of seven years in prison and $15,000 fine.

Keeps Dropping

Washington, May 26 (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board reported today that industrial production dropped in April for the fifth straight month and was continuing down in early May.

215 Might Die

Safety Council Forecasts Traffic Fatalities Over Holiday

Chicago, May 26 (AP)—The National Safety Council estimated today that 215 persons will die in traffic mishaps over the nation during the three-day Memorial holiday.

The council's estimate applies only to immediate traffic fatalities and does not include persons who may die later from injuries. Nor does it include deaths occurring from accidents other than traffic. If good weather prevails, the council said it expected more than 30,000,000 vehicles to be on the move over the week-end.

The estimated toll of deaths from traffic, the council said, could be halved if motorists met the holiday hazards with extra caution and courtesy.

Two Are Convicted In Hudson Case

Recommendation Is Made for Leniency; Court to Rule Tuesday

Hudson, N. Y., May 26 (AP)—Justice Isadore Bookstein must decide by Tuesday whether to sentence two young cousins to death or life imprisonment for the robbery-shooting of Martin M. Kittell.

Richard Harwell, 18, of Hudson and Lawrence W. Allgood, 20, of Union, N. J., were convicted of first degree murder late yesterday by a State Supreme Court jury.

The jury of 10 men and two women recommended life imprisonment instead of death in the electric chair. The jury deliberated two hours and 15 minutes.

Bookstein is not required to follow the life sentence recommendation.

Counsel for the defendants had said during the trial that they could only hope to save the two from death. The attorneys, both court-appointed, said last night they would not move to appeal the verdict at this time.

Harwell and Allgood were convicted of shooting Kittell after robbing him of $700 last Nov. 21. Kittell, 48, operated a dry cleaning business here.

The youths showed no emotion as the verdict was announced. Their mothers, Mrs. Ollie Harwell and Mrs. James Allgood, sobbed openly.

Harwell and Allgood were returned to Columbia county jail to await sentencing next Tuesday. They were described as "mad dog killers" in the summation of N. Le Van Haver, special prosecutor. He said they deserved no mercy.

The defense presented testimony that the cousins were intoxicated the night of the slaying. The prosecution declared they "were not intoxicated enough to forget to wipe off the windshield and the entire (Kittell) car to remove fingerprints."

Justice Bookstein told the jury it could return any of these verdicts: Acquittal, first degree murder with or without a recommendation of mercy for either or both defendants, first degree manslaughter or second degree manslaughter.

The death penalty is mandatory in a straight first degree murder conviction. For murder committed during the commission of another felony—such as robbery—the killing case—life imprisonment may be decreed instead of death, but only if the jury recommends mercy.

Police Investigate Scant Clues in Reuther Shooting

Except for Gun, Heel Print and Report of Car, No Evidence Held by Authorities

Detroit, May 26 (AP)—Police sifted scant clues today in the ambush attempt on the life of C.I.O. Unionist Victor Reuther, blinded in one eye by an unknown attacker's gunfire.

At the same time the F.B.I. was considering whether to enter the investigation after a stream of requests from a number of quarters, including Congress, the C.I.O. and the state of Michigan. So far only local authorities, with the help of state police, were pushing the search for the mysterious assailant.

Reuther, educational director for the C.I.O.'s big United Auto Workers Union, was shot through a living room window of his home Tuesday night.

The police clues were the weapon, a double-barreled 12-gauge shotgun abandoned in the Reuther yard, and a heel print.

Except for neighbors' reports of seeing an "old model car" drive off rapidly after the gunshot, authorities otherwise lacked much evidence.

Surgeons at Henry Ford Hospital yesterday removed Reuther's right eye, which a shotgun pellet had virtually ripped to pieces.

Reuther, 37, also shot in the face and neck, was reported in "satisfactory" condition after the operation.

His brother, Walter, president of the U.A.W.-C.I.O., on whose life a similar attempt was made 13 months earlier, charged a Communist plot, or other subversive action, might have been responsible for both attacks.

In routine inquiries officers picked up two men for questioning.

One was released after establishing an alibi.

Police said they were holding a second who had been heard babbling a drunken story relating to the shooting.

Attorney General Tom Clark said at Washington that the Department was continuing its investigation.

9W Drive-In Is To Open Friday; Special Ceremony

The 9W Drive-In Theatre, located on Route 9W just north of the Kingston by-pass, which is hailed by its owners, the Walter Reade Theatres, as the newest and finest in the East, will be opened to the public tomorrow at 7 p. m. with dedication ceremonies in which both Ulster county and Kingston officials will participate.

The drive-in, covering an 18-acre landscaped plot, has a capacity of 700 cars, and has been designed to serve as a community recreation center as well as a theatre. It contains a large picnic area, a pony ride, swings, slides and see-saws for children, a dance floor, shuffleboard courts, and horseshoe pits for adults. The projection and sound equipment, the Reade Theatres said, is the most modern on the market, to assure top technical quality in the shows presented.

State Senator Arthur H. Wickes and Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk of Kingston are invited to take part in the tape-cutting ceremonies at 7 p. m. A party of county and city officials will then be guests of Walter Reade at a reception to follow at Judge's Restaurant in Kingston.

The opening screen bill will be the technicolor feature "South of St. Louis," which stars Joel McCrea and Alexis Smith. This will be shown Friday and Saturday. Thereafter double features will be billed.

Reade stated that the new drive-in will cater directly to family trade. Double feature programs will be presented, with

Lilienthal Says A. E. C. Cleared 2 Despite Report

White Flag Is Run Up by Sino Troops

Defense of Soochow Is Collapsing; Reds Round Up Nationalist Prisoners

City Breathes Free Civilians Have Endured All Sorts of Fire Since Reds Entered

Shanghai, May 26 (AP)—Nationalist troops today ran up a white flag atop the Shanghai postoffice, and it appeared the dogged defense of the lower Soochow creek was collapsing.

The Communists crossed the Szechuan Bridge and began rounding up Nationalist prisoners. The Garden Bridge was evacuated by the Nationalists but still was under fire from the nearby Broadway Mansion, 17 floor apartment where a number of Americans are trapped.

The Communists had not tried to cross the creek there. It seemed to be only a matter of hours before this tough knot of resistance, which has delayed Communist occupation of North Shanghai, would be wiped out completely.

The trick was turned when the Reds got a flanking column behind the bridge defenders and made a simultaneous attack in front.

At 5 p. m. resistance from the embankment building's lower floor was continuing but tenants, including some 500 foreigners, were trying to get the Nationalists there to quit fighting.

The whole city breathed a sigh of relief for the thousands of Chinese civilians on the Bund and north of Soochow creek who had been trapped since early yesterday. They had endured all sorts of fire.

The United States and British consulates were trying to intercede with both sides for a cease-fire order to enable trapped foreigners and other non-combatants to escape from the embankment building.

There were Nationalist gun atop and on various floors of the embankment building. Civilians were barricading themselves against bullets and shrapnel as best they could.

For almost 24 hours small Nationalist forces had kept the Reds away from the bridges.

Peking road was a no-man's land near the Bund. So was the lower part of the Bund where it runs into Garden Bridge, one of the four key spans under Communist assault.

The U. S. consulate general is there—where Peking road and the Bund meet.

The battle area embraced some of Shanghai's finest modern buildings north and south of Soochow creek. These include the 16-story Broadway mansions, the seven-story Embankment building, the post office, the British and Soviet Consulates.

Trapped in these buildings were hundreds of foreigners—Americans, British, Portuguese, Netherlands, French—and many Chinese.

Canfield Supply Purchases Large Van Slyke Plant

Company Buys From Federal Blind Concern, Then Sells Firm Former Colonial Chevrolet Property; Will Move During Crossing Work

In order to properly serve their many customers during the elimination of the West Shore Broadway crossing, the Canfield Supply Company have purchased the large Van Slyke & Horton building at 25-27 and 29 Dederick street, formerly the C. W. Van Slyke & Horton cigar factory, and now occupied by the Federal Venetian Blind Company.

This property is adjacent to the Dederick street entrance to the Canfield warehouse entrance.

The new building will be used as temporary office, show room and storage in connection with the Canfield business which is now located in the former Everett & Treadwell building on Broadway which was purchased some years ago by the Canfield company since it has been occupied by the firm since.

It is understood that on completion of the crossing elimination, Canfields will erect a modern show room and office on Broadway to replace the one which will be demolished.

When the elimination of the West Shore crossing seemed assured, the Canfield Supply Company purchased the former Sutfit Chevrolet auto plant on O'Neil street which they later leased to the Bev Anderson Chevrolet Company, Kingston Chevrolet car distributor.

Canfields have now sold the O'Neil street property to the Federal Venetian Blind Company who will occupy the premises when the present lease to Mr. Anderson expires next May. It is reported Mr. Anderson plans to erect a modern automobile sales and service station for his business.

Until the Bev Anderson Chevrolet agency vacates the O'Neil street property, the Federal Venetian Blind Company will continue to occupy about 16,000 square feet in the Dederick street building, using the two main floors of this large building.

The venetian blind company expects to establish a modern assembly line all on one floor of the O'Neil street property, when they take over the property which they have just acquired. This one floor assembly line method of production has been established in the most desirable means of manufacturing by many firms.

Sale of the O'Neil street property to Canfields, the present purchase of the Dederick street property by Canfields and the re-sale of the O'Neil street property now by Canfields to the Federal Venetian Blind Company was all consummated through the real estate brokerage of Joseph J. Scoccamo, who has real estate offices on Fair street. The combined sales are reported to have been the largest real estate transaction negotiated in the city of Kingston and involved a very considerable sum.

Canfield Supply Company is one of the oldest and best known wholesale establishments in the Hudson valley as it was established 99 years ago by the late Palmer A. Canfield as a stove and sheet metal establishment, and as times have changed the Canfield Supply Company have anticipated coming changes and added plumbing, heating, and electrical supplies, as well as modern water systems.

Proposal Is Rejected Trenton, N. J., May 26 (AP)—Governor Driscoll has rejected the present proposals that the state order the retail price of milk in metropolitan North Jersey back to where it was before a three-cent-a-quart cut. Driscoll yesterday asked the milk industry and particularly the Sheffield Company, which initiated the drop that became general in North Jersey, to pledge to refrain from a price war.

First Block Ready 17 Days After Start

Ernest A. Steuding, superintendent of the local public works department, is ahead of his "30-day" promise to Wall street merchants, by nearly half a month, it was revealed yesterday at a Board of Public Works meeting.

Steuding had promised the merchants that the rebuilding of two blocks on the uptown business street would proceed at the rate of at least a block a month, and Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk stressed that the first block was ready for initial paving just 17 days after start of the project.

"If it doesn't rain," Steuding said, "Wall street will be open between North Front and John streets Friday morning." Arrangements will also be made, he said, to keep the whole street open to traffic over the holiday week-end. Work is scheduled to start Tuesday on the block from John to Main street, but the final layer of black top will not be applied until the whole project is completed.

Rignall Resigns Principalship in 2 Schools, 6 and 8

Local Educator Will Go to Arlington, Virginia as Head of Barrett

Raymond H. Rignall, principal of Schools No. 6 and 8 told The Freeman this morning that he sent his resignation to the Board of Education today. He has accepted a position as principal of The Barrett School, an elementary school, in Arlington, Va., beginning July 1.

Rignall's resignation is the second resignation of a school principal within a week in the local system. Clifford Ball resigned last week as principal of the Myron J. Michael School to accept a similar position in Montclair, N. J.

With the retirement of Clarence J. Dumas, principal of Kingston High School, at the end of this school year, there will be three vacancies for principals in the city's schools.

Rignall came to the Kingston school system 15 years ago as teacher at School No. 6. Four years later he was appointed principal at No. 1, later principal of No. 8, and about seven years ago made principal of Schools 6 and 8.

School No. 6 was his first teaching position. Prior to coming to Kingston he had worked for the Fiske Tire Company and also for Radio Station WICC in Bridgeport, Conn.

He attended Allegheny College, Syracuse University, Harvard University and received his bachelor of arts degree in 1933 at New York University. He received his master of arts degree at N. Y. U. in 1940, and has half of his work completed toward the doctor of education degree at N. Y. U. and Temple University. He plans to finish the work for his doctor's degree at George Washington University.

In January he was elected to Phi Delta Kappa, national honorary education fraternity, and initiated into membership of Rho Chapter at N. Y. U.

While in Kingston Rignall has been an active member of Kiwanis and served on the board of directors. During the war he was salvage committee chairman and also

Chairman Is Initial Man Heard

Dr. Condon and Graham Named at Hearing as 'Mismanagement' Is Probed

Lilienthal Asks Group Be Called, Also Names General

Washington, May 26 (AP)—David E. Lilienthal told Congressional investigators today that the Atomic Energy Commission cleared two men for secret work despite adverse recommendations from its security officer.

The A.E.C. chairman named the men as Dr. Edward U. Condon, head of the Bureau of Standards, and Dr. Frank Graham. At the time of the commission action Graham was President of the University of North Carolina. He is now a Democratic senator from North Carolina.

Lilienthal was the first witness as the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee opened hearings into charges of "incredible mismanagement" in the A.E.C.

The charges, and a demand for Lilienthal's removal, came from Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), a member of the committee and its former chairman.

At the outset, Lilienthal was permitted to make a long statement in which he said atomic development was on a bogged down but is now "really rolling" and the present research is directed at developing new atomic weapons of greater reliability.

Lilienthal asked that the inquiry embrace the accomplishments as well as the errors of the commission, and proposed a list of 30 scientists and others who should be called as witnesses. One was Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Opposes 'Emotion' Hickenlooper objected that Lilienthal was attempting to emphasize "the emotional end of bomb making." What he is interested in, he said, is the policies of the commission.

he added, "is . . . to the administrative policies which the commission under Mr. Lilienthal's guidance and influence, has followed and continues to follow."

Lilienthal said the commission cleared Condon and Graham despite adverse recommendations.

The hearings had gotten little further than that when a recess was taken. McMahon announced there would be no further public hearings until some time next week, but that the committee would meet in a closed session tomorrow.

Hickenlooper said he wants "to re-emphasize that I have not in any degree impugned Mr. Lilienthal's personal honesty nor his personal patriotism in his country."

"I believe he is sincere in his beliefs and in his policies," he said. "It is with his policies and with a continuation of those policies that I sharply disagree."

Of Particular Concern Hickenlooper said he was particularly concerned by (1) the handling of A.E.C. scholarships—one of which, at least, went to a communist—and (2) the facts surrounding the disappearance of

Chill to Continue

Weather Bureau Reports Temperatures May Get Little Cooler

Chicago, May 26 (AP)—Cool weather blanketed the eastern half of the nation today.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said the chill would last at least through tomorrow, and possibly get a little cooler. Midwestern temperatures generally were 10 to 15 degrees below the season normal.

At Frost hit lower Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois with more forecast for tonight.

The Pacific Coast, however, was entirely normal, while some inland spots looked forward to another day of temperatures well above seasonal averages.

Down along the gulf the weather was warm and humid also. The east coast got the full benefit of the newest cool snap.

9W Drive-In Is

three changes per week. Children under 12 years of age will be admitted without charge at all times. Extra cartoons will be added during the week.

Robert W. Case, city manager for the two Walter Reade Theatres in Kingston—the Kingston and Broadway—will be in general charge of the outdoor theatre. Jack Hamilton, a thespian for more than 20 years with RKO, Schine and several southern circuits as well as the Reade organization, has been transferred from the Reade theatres in Plainfield, N. J., to manage the drive-in.

The new theatre has been designed to blend with the rustic theme of the woodlands which surround it on three sides. Fences, boxoffices and many of the decorations will be of natural pine and oak. Grassed plots have been planted with flrs and overgreens in additional landscaping.

The entrance is directly on Highway 9W, a few hundred yards north of the bypass. An area approximated 30 yards deep and running parallel to the road will serve as a "holding" area to get cars on and off the highway quickly and prevent congestion. The front is dominated by a massive screen tower, the rear of which faces the road and has been decorated with huge letters announcing the 9W Drive-In. A large "V" shaped signboard has been built near the road to carry the theatre's screen attractions.

Two boxoffices at the entrance, which will handle four lanes of cars at once, are covered by a rustic canopy. Cashiers will work from Dutch doors on both sides of the booths. Once inside the drive-in, patrons will be directed by uniformed attendants to the vicinity in the nearest of the 11 ramps. As the car is parked one attendant will clean off the windshield and another will adjust the individual in-car speaker in the auto.

A center building houses a large refreshment stand known as "The Refreshery," which is operated by the Walter Reade Theatres.

The same building also contains the projection rooms and the rest rooms. The dance floor where square dancing will be held nights—located alongside the refreshery.

Leon M. Elmhorn of Albany, who has built a score of large drive-ins throughout the country, was architect for the 9-W Drive-In, and J. and O. A. Slutzky of Hunter, were general contractors. A score of Kingston firms participated in the construction as subcontractors or as suppliers of equipment. All attendants at the theatre are local residents. According to Reade, the new theatre will stress entertainment for the entire family, catering particularly to those families who cannot go to the movies unless they bring their children along with them; those who would go out for a drive in their car, but would not dress up to go out; and elderly people who cannot go to public places, but can go motor-ing. Experience in his other drive-in theatres has proven, Reade said, that the well built and well managed outdoor theatre is a boon to these persons, and a definite asset to the progress and development of the community. The picnic and game area will be open during the day, without charge. The entire area is being sprayed to repel insects, and speccial insect-repelling bulbs have been used wherever incandescent lights are called for. The drive-in will also have "artificial moon-light"—large lights mounted atop 70-foot poles to provide enough light to walk by, but not enough to interfere with the picture on the screen. Shows will go on on fair nights and on rainy ones. A special rain-shedding solution will be rubbed onto windshields of all cars as they enter the drive-in on rainy nights, making it unnecessary to use a windshield wiper.

11 Are Arrested On Drugs Counts

New York, May 26 (AP)—District Attorney Frank S. Hogan announced early today that 11 members of an alleged narcotic ring had been arrested in a city-wide all-day roundup yesterday. Hogan said the arrests brought the total of captured alleged ring members to 19—most of them tracked down by a federal agent identified only as "a Harvard man."

He said they belonged to an organization doing a year business in "millions of dollars worth" of illegal narcotics in midtown and lower Manhattan and in nearby states.

Nine men were charged with illegal sale of narcotics and two with illegally having drugs. The nine were identified as Max "Red" Mandy, Krapnowsky, 39; Joseph "The Mock" Spivak, 53; Joseph Kaufman, 30; Sebastian "Cheesy" Cummiando, 20; Danny Lewis, 25; and Thomas Trochides, all of lower Manhattan; Henry Hallitzer, 32, and Sidney "Lefty" Koslow, 35, of Brooklyn; and Salvatore "Chubs" Furnaro, 42, of Queens.

Hogan said a total of seven ounces of heroin worth $25,000 was found in the possession of Hallitzer and Trochides.

Charged with possession but not sale of drugs were Richard Guardino, 27, and Ralph Marino, 24, of lower Manhattan.

Of the first nine, Hogan listed previous arrests or convictions, mostly involving narcotics, for all but Trochides and Furnaro.

Hogan said the "Harvard man" federal agent had done most of the contact work for the roundup, locating peddlers and provable sales of drugs.

The roundup, he said, was "an example of splendid cooperation" among the district attorney's office, the city police and federal agents.

GARDINER

Gardiner, May 25—Mr. and Mrs. James Gaffney of New York were Sunday guests of their aunt, Miss Edna Dugan.

Mrs. James Clinton and mother, Mrs. George Buak of Stamford, Conn., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Bowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Atwater and daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Cavide of West New York, N. J., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Crusellas.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McCord and Edgar McCord are on a motor trip to Montana visiting places of interest while enroute.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Williamson and daughter of Walden were Sunday guests of Mr. William son's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boland.

Mrs. Laura Vandemark of Cornwall-on-Hudson is visiting her sister, Mrs. Mary Clinton.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jayne and their grandson, Lewis Montanye, spent the week-end with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Tether of Barryville.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Carlin, Mrs. Edward Carlin and Mrs. William Cothorn of Peekskill attended the funeral of Mrs. George Everis here Monday.

John Lyons and son, James of Mt. Vernon, spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. John Lucy.

The Youth Fellowship held its closing meeting for the summer Sunday night. Following the business meeting the group enjoyed a waffle spread. A gift was given by the society to the local church and missions. Plans were made to send young people to the Oakwood conference and for week-day activities during the summer. Sunday evening services will be resumed in the fall.

The Ladies' Aid of the Reformed Church will meet for a picnic at the home of Mrs. C. D. Whittemore June 1. Each member attending is asked to bring a covered dish. Dessert will be furnished by the hostess. Those wishing transportation are requested to be at the church by 11 a. m.

The Sunday school of the Reformed Church will sponsor a food sale on the lawn of Miss Edna Dugan at 3 p. m. on Saturday, June 4.

New York state has a population of 14,000,000.

Hospital Porter Held

New York, May 26 (AP)—A 19-year-old hospital porter was arrested last night on charges of attempted rape and felonious assault after allegedly attacking a 55-year-old woman in Reservoir Park, near Bainbridge avenue and East 208th street, the Bronx. Police said the prisoner, James Williams, a Negro employed at Montefiore Hospital, was found hiding in shrubbery three blocks from the scene of the attack, by Patrolmen Charles Rose and George McKee.

Day Line Bosses Hand Out Passes, Gold-Braided Cap

New York, May 26 (AP)—The new operators of the Hudson River Day Line gave 300 city officials and other guests a preview yesterday of what excursionists may expect this summer on cruising up the Hudson river.

The group went on a two-hour sail on the refurbished steamer Alexander Hamilton.

The veteran steamer is one of four vessels taken over by the new owners, headed by George Sanders. The craft will start the company's 1949 season Saturday with a trip to Poughkeepsie.

During yesterday's sail, gold lifetime passes on the line's vessels were presented to three guests: Mayor Horace S. Graham, of Poughkeepsie; City Manager William J. McIntyre, of Newburgh; and Joseph J. Lennox, representing Mayor Curtis Frank, of Yonkers.

New York City Commissioner of Marine and Aviation G. Joseph Minetti, named Walter S. Mack, president of the Pepsi-Cola Company, as honorary commodore of the day line. A gold-braided cap, with the title.

A buffet luncheon was served during the cruise in the harbor and Hudson river.

The Alexander Hamilton and the Peter Stuyvesant will operate the first part of the season, with the Robert Fulton and the Hendrik Hudson scheduled to join later.

The line will operate daily from West 42nd street, with stops at West 125th street, Yonkers, Bear Mountain, West Point, Newburgh and Poughkeepsie. In addition, the Alexander Hamilton will make a showboat sail each Saturday night.

Sanders said the line has no immediate plans for resuming the service to Albany, but may do so if business warrants.

Today's lesson hand was given to me by Albert A. Ostrow, the director of bridge at Brooklyn College. The college now includes bridge in its adult educational program. However, they do charge for the series of eight lessons, as no taxpayer's money can be used for this program, except for the building.

They run classes every evening the first four days of the week. Mr. Ostrow tells me that there are about 40 persons in each class. Two days are devoted to beginners, one day for intermediate classes, and one day for tournament bridge.

Mr. Ostrow has a little booklet that he uses in the classes called "Modern Basics of Contract." A number of these booklets were purchased and sent to the training camp of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Here's a hand that combines two points of play. The opening lead of the seven of spades was won with the ace and a spade trumped. Two rounds of trump were taken. When the jack fell from the South hand, the declarer now decided to try for an end play. He cashed the ace of clubs and led a small club, hoping that South would have to lead into the diamond ace-queen. South, however, continued with the king of clubs.

To Meet Tonight
A regular meeting of the town board of the Town of Esopus will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the town clerk's office.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, May 26 — Jack Short and Basil C. Potter, who have been on a fishing trip in Canada have returned home.

Mrs. Beulah Clark of Astoria, L. I., is visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Boyce.

Brownies, Troop 44, will meet at the Methodist Church house Friday at 8:20 p. m. Mrs. Robert J. Torrens, Jr., is the leader and Mrs. Vincent Secor is the assistant leader.

There will be a meeting of the drum section of the Port Ewen Five, Drum and Bugle Corps at the firehouse tonight at 7 o'clock. All drummers are requested to attend.

There will be a meeting of the town board at the office of the town clerk tonight at 8 o'clock.

Troop 18, sponsored by the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Church, was guest of Troop 26 at its regular meeting Tuesday night. Scoutmaster Henry Sottile brought the following boys for the visit: Joseph Gallagher, James Amato, Ralph Donnelly, Francis Donnelly, William Murphy, John Giespie and Leon Beebler. After the opening ceremony, Vincent Secor, the new scoutmaster of Troop 26, was introduced. During the evening a game period was supervised by Richard Vincelli and Ed Mulins, Jr., assistant scoutmasters. Richard Vincelli gave an interesting knot tying demonstration. Refreshments also were served. The Rev. Harry Christy, pastor of the church, presided at the benediction. The following Port Ewen scouts were present: Frank Dailey, Jr., Richard Torrens, Jack Beaver, Vincent Fairbrother, Bruce Munson, Robert Van Leuven, George Barkley, Robert Sanford, Richard LeFever, George Walker, J. Albright and Richard Carter. Robert Coutant and James Ellsworth were guests.

Atomic Radiation

Washington, (AP)—A new use for atomic radiation is a remote-control means of determining the potential water supply from mountain snow. Government scientists said the automatic method opened up broad possibilities for obtaining advance knowledge of such water resources in areas where mountain snow is a factor in planning farm operations, flood-control, water conservation, and the maintenance of hydro-electric power.

Anti-Defamation League Activities

The regular meeting of Kingston Lodge, B'nai B'rith on Wednesday evening was devoted to the activities of the Anti-Defamation League. Martin Spiegel, president of the lodge; Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, Arthur B. Ewig, A. D. L. chairman, and Israel H. Moss, director of the Eastern New York regional office of the Anti-Defamation League, are shown, left to right in the above picture. Mayor Newkirk, who delivered a brief talk, was presented with a copy of "How to Secure These Rights," a book dealing with minority discrimination in colleges and elsewhere. (Freeman Photo)

Annual Survey of Anti-Semitism, Minority Hatred

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk at a regular meeting of Kingston Lodge of B'nai B'rith on Wednesday evening was presented with the Doubleday publication, "How to Secure These Rights." This is a nationwide study, prepared under the supervision of Jacob Grumet, chairman, and Arnold Forster, director of the League's Civil Rights Division, which charts the trends and patterns of anti-Semitism during 1948 and details the extent to which discrimination against Jews exists in housing, employment, education, the professions and other areas of American life.

The year 1948, a year of great gains, violent reactions and, in certain areas, increased discrimination should go down "on the credit side of the ledger" in the fight on anti-Semitism, the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith declares in its annual survey made public by New York Supreme Court Justice Meier Steinbrink, national chairman of the League.

"The past year was a good year," declared Justice Steinbrink, "because we witnessed an increased awareness among Americans of the problems of minority bias. The facts in this careful survey point to many inequities in American life. But they also point to the conscientious efforts of many Americans who are working to cleanse our nation of anti-Semitism and minority hatred."

Salient findings of the survey include:

1. Continued and widespread prevalence of prejudice in employment. A spot survey of the registration forms of private employment agencies reveals that 60.6 per cent ask questions about religion; 33.9 per cent about nationality; 25.4 per cent about place of birth; 16.5 per cent about descent, and 11.9 per cent about race. Still another study conducted in 19 large cities disclosed that 59 per cent of the employment agencies included the "religion" question. Selecting September, 1948, as a sample month, one investigation revealed that discriminatory job offers were accepted by private employment agencies in at least 55 large cities.

There were also measurable gains. A check by 15 vocational service agencies discloses that in states where F.E.P.C. laws exist, only one out of 23 job applicants was questioned about his religion, while in other states the ration was one out of four.

2. The U. S. Supreme Court's unanimous decision declaring racial and religious restrictive covenants unenforceable in state or federal courts was an historic landmark in the battle against bigotry. To circumvent the court's decision various groups and agencies are now resorting to tricky collusive devices and there remains extensive discrimination against Jews and other minorities seeking to buy or rent housing. This discrimination, at times, is by acts of terrorism.

3. Although 1948 saw a decrease in the number and activity of anti-Semitic organizations, 12 new anti-Semitic organizations were organized during the year. There now are 47 groups operating in the United States which are openly anti-Semitic.

4. Continued use of racial and religious questions in screening applicants for admission to college. One year after the President's Commission on Higher Education urged the deletion of discriminatory inquiries from college application blanks, 87 per cent of the non-denominational colleges, both public and private, still ask such questions.

5. Almost 98 per cent of the State application blanks for licensing of five major professions—accounting, law, dentistry, optometry and medicine—in the 48 states and the District of Columbia, contain questions which are strongly discriminatory and have no relation to competency in these fields.

6. Social discrimination continued in many areas. Resort literature still contains blatant anti-Semitism and many hotel owners ignore or evade civil rights laws.

7. A "more enlightened" attitude in the south toward civil rights was demonstrated by a southwide meeting in Atlanta and several other parleys below the Mason-Dixon Line, prominently attended by liberal Southern leaders. An encouraging sign was the fact that some 700,000 Negroes voted in the 1948 Presidential election, compared to the 200,000 who voted in the election of 1944.

8. Credit companies and insurance agencies are contributing to discrimination by confidential systems of reporting, which place great emphasis on the irrelevant factors of "race" and "religion" in determining the credit risk of an individual.

9. Race and religious bias had its spokesmen on the floor of Congress. Rep. John Rankin (D-Miss.) and Eugene Cox (D-Ga.) showed marked hostility to Jews in their discussions of the D.P. bill, Israel and in hearings before the Un-American Activities Committee. Rep. Clare Hoffman (R-Mich.) and former Sen. Chapman Revercomb of West Virginia also fitted into this category.

Doctor Says Suit 'Filed for Revenge'

St. Louis, May 26 (AP)—A Pennsylvania doctor said last night that a suit accusing him of fathering a child and billing the woman's husband for delivery of the baby was "filed for revenge and some easy money."

Dr. Paul A. Hinchberger was named in a $50,000 suit filed at Butler, Pa., by Clair W. Hutzler. Hutzler alleged the doctor was the father of a son born to Mrs. Hutzler six months ago. Hutzler also charged Hinchberger sent a bill to him for $122.50 for the delivery.

The doctor said he had not asked Hutzler to pay "a single cent" for delivery of the baby.

"The suit was filed for revenge and for some easy money I don't have," he said. "It must be made perfectly clear that I at no time took advantage of my professional capacity. I will fight the suit if necessary."

Hinchberger, 37, and Mrs. Hutzler, 31, were found here by reporters. They are sharing an apartment while Hinchberger is taking a medical refresher course at Washington University.

Mrs. Hutzler has the baby with her. Both said they would like divorces from their respective spouses.

Margaret Corbin To Be Honored At West Point

The 23rd anniversary ceremonies at the grave of Margaret Corbin, Revolutionary heroine, in West Point Military Cemetery will be held Friday by the New York State Officers Club, Daughters of the American Revolution, Officers of the U. S. Military Academy will participate. Arrangements are under the supervision of Mrs. Alton Brooks Parker, permanent chairman, of Esopus.

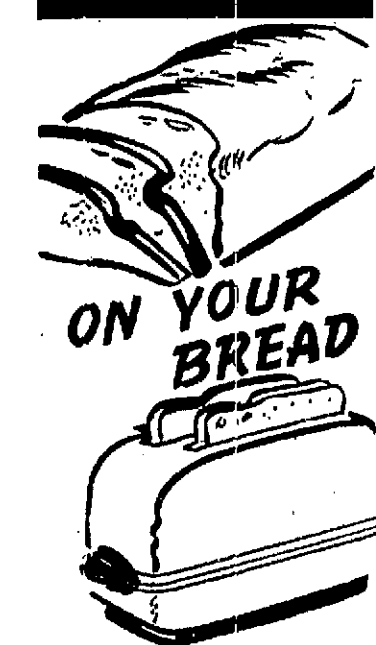

Lieut. Col. William J. Morton will represent Maj. Gen. Bryant E. Moore, superintendent of the U. S. Military Academy, and give an address, as will Lieut. Col. William G. Proctor, public information officer. Captain Sue B. Trulock of the WAC Detachment will speak of the innovation of Wacs at West Point. Chaplain Frank E. Pulley will give the invocation and benediction.

Mrs. Frank Howland Parcells of Brooklyn, president of the club and a former New York State Regent D.A.R., will welcome club members and guests, and will read an original poem, "A Tribute to Margaret Corbin"—by Mrs. Frank W. Merriam, the club poetess. A wreath of red, white and blue flowers will be placed at the monument by Mrs. Fisher M. Joslin of Delmar, N. Y., a former club president.

An original paper entitled "Margaret Corbin, Herself" has been prepared and will be read by Mrs. Charles White Nash of Albany, founder and first president of the club, during whose administration as New York State Regent D.A.R., the research work was done in proving the identity of Margaret Corbin. Cared for by West Point as "Captain Molly," she had lain in her grave at Highland Falls, N. Y., for 123 years, and until her reinterment at West Point with full military honors in 1928.

Luncheon at U. S. Hotel Thayer will follow the ceremonies.

The United States was the biggest buyer of the 108,395,000 pounds of tobacco which Turkey exported in 1938.

Honesty and accuracy are "musts" at A&P

We are proud of the high quality of our foods and the low prices at which we sell them.

But we prize above all else our reputation for fair, honest dealing. And we exert every effort to maintain it.

A&P prices are plainly marked on the goods, shelves or cases. A&P scales are placed where you can read them. A&P cashiers are trained to check your purchases quickly and accurately.

You can help us maintain our strict standards of accuracy if you will let us know should we ever make a mistake in weighing your purchase, or in adding up your bill or in giving you change.

another A&P service

Most of our self-service customers like to check the cash register slip received at the check stand with each individual item they buy. That's why A&P marks the price on every can, jar and package to be paid for at the cashier's check stand. You know what A&P's low prices should be—you can check each one as you pay... and, you can check further when you arrive home.

A&P's system of price-marking each item is another service by A&P to give you complete confidence in WHAT you buy and WHERE you buy.

Pat Rooney, Jr., on Vaudeville Bill

Pat Rooney, Jr., noted son of the famous old-time vaudeville star, will share the spotlight as the featured attractions at the Broadway Theatre in Kingston on the Memorial Day week-end stage program Friday and Saturday, May 27 and 28.

Young Rooney, appropriately billed as "A Chip Off the Old Block" will perform the songs and soft-shoe dances that made his father one of the all-time greats in the variety field. For Pat, Jr., it will come naturally—he has literally been brought up on stage as a member of his famous dad's act, ever since he could walk.

Particularly for the youngsters will be the act "Loyal's Stallions"—eight trained dogs handled by Mrs. Alf Loyal. The dogs are dressed up with plumes and bridles to resemble ponies, putting on a unique circus-type of routine. The act is actually a circus number, having played with Hunt's and Ringling Brothers circus, and most recently on stage at New York's Radio City Music Hall.

Also featured will be Al Castle, one-legged trick bicycle rider, whose ability to overcome his physical handicap is so outstanding he was literally "died" by the army during the latter part of the war to do rehabilitation work.

Comedy for the show will be provided by Diew and Diew, direct from the Milton Berle television show in a comedy act entitled "Slowly I Turned."

The fifth act will be "Dorian and Sylvia," a juggling and musical act billed as "Musical Majors."

The Broadcast Choir

The 11th annual choir festival of Albany Diocese of the Episcopal Church will be broadcast from 5 to 5:30 this Saturday afternoon by Station WSKW. It was announced today by WSKW program director, Fred Daigler. The Rt. Rev. G. Ashton Gildham, bishop of the Albany diocese, will deliver the address of welcome to choirs from 40 churches participating in the festival at Cathedral of All Saints, Albany. An estimated 400 voices will be directed by Duncan Trotter Gillespie, president of the Albany Diocesan Choirmaster's Association and choir director of St. George's Episcopal Church, Schenectady. Robert Walker Morse, All Saints Cathedral organist, will be at the console.

WHAT'S IN YOUR PICNIC BASKET?

Well, if the folks who filled it know what's good to eat, there'll be olives, pickles, some sort of salad, rolls... and plenty of those plump, juicy First Prize Frankfurts! First Prize Frankfurts are simply swell no matter how you choose to cook them, but when they're roasted over the embers of a charcoal fire, they take on a flavor that mere words can't describe. Remember to reserve a place for them in your picnic basket... First Prize Frankfurts have what it takes to make the eating part of your outing a success from start to finish!

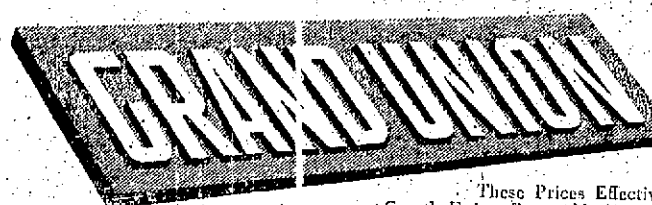

FIRST PRIZE FRANKFURTS, of course!

Model Drug Store

New York, May 26.—Commenting on the coming New York State Pharmaceutical Association's 71st annual convention at Lake George starting Sunday, June 12, Nicholas S. Gesonde, secretary of the N.Y.S.P.A., said, "98 per cent of all drugstores in New York state will be represented at the convention, these are the member stores of our association." The convention will feature the model drugstore of 1950.

Binnewater Dance

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Binnewater Volunteer Fire Company, Inc., will hold its first dance of the season in the Binnewater firehouse May 27 from 9 to 11 o'clock, with music by Floyd Dietz and his Singing Sons of the Saddle. The ladies plan to hold dances every two weeks. Refreshments will be on sale.

Three of the Ashokan School students display the new relief map of the town of Olive and parts of adjoining towns, which the pupils recently completed. From left to right are Lester Lawrence, Harriet Glass and Douglas Glass.

Hero Warns Against Drink

Auckland, New Zealand, (AP)—Sir Bernard Freyberg, New England war hero, has a word of advice for the young of the world: Don't drink spirits, and don't smoke too much. Sir Bernard, who won the Victoria Cross in World War I, is now New Zealand Governor General. "I am disturbed when I see young people drinking spirits and chain smoking," he said at a university graduation ceremony. "They are only storing up trouble for themselves."

Ashokan Pupils Complete Map

Shokan, May 26.—Pupils of the Ashokan School, now part of the Ontario Central School, recently unveiled a relief map of the town of Olive and parts of adjoining towns. The map was made as a group project under the direction of Mrs. Ruth R. West, Allaben, teacher, and involved more than 900 student work hours practically all of which were outside of school time.

"It's one of the finest projects I have ever seen completed by children of elementary school age," was the comment made by John H. Moebie, supervising principal of the Ontario Central School.

The map will be on display in various parts of the school district as the public may see it. It eventually will be displayed in the new Ontario Central School building to be erected at Boiceville.

It is a relief map of the town of Olive, and parts of adjoining towns, built to a horizontal scale of one inch equivalent to 2500 feet and to a vertical scale of one inch equivalent to 400 feet. The area covered is 197 square miles of 126,000 acres. The map was constructed in 12 sections each about nine inches square. These were tacked together by using one-quarter inch plywood. The 12 sections were mounted together on a base of three-quarter inch plywood, glued and nailed in place and the joints pointed-up in plastic wood. The frame of cherry wood was fashioned on the jigsaw to conform with the contours.

The project involved more than 900 student hours of work. Groups of from 3 to 10 met once a week for 65 weeks during the evenings and after school. The map was unveiled and presented to Reginald R. Bennett, district superintendent of schools, at short ceremonies held recently at the school. A large number of parents and friends attended the ceremony. Included were Mrs. Mary Merrihue, former trustee; Charles Ginsbittle, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the town of Olive; and Harold Wilkins, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Heaney Is Named Officer of Local Air Guard Outfit

Second Lieutenant Edward J. Heaney, a veteran of the Eighth Air Force in Europe during World War 2, has been appointed commanding officer of Detachment B of the 107th Aircraft and Control Warning Squadron of the New York Air National Guard.

The local group is now being organized at the state armory where applications for enlistment may be made, Monday through Friday from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Detachment B, while under the control of the New York Air National Guard, is affiliated with the 52nd Fighter Wing with headquarters in White Plains. The 107th Aircraft and Control Warning Squadron is under the command of Major Philip C. Martin.

The first drill night for Detachment B was held Monday and according to Lt. Heaney the response was gratifying. However, the local commanding officer reported that there are still several openings left in the personnel of the outfit.

Plans are underway for training in all phases of radio and radar work. Summer training plans with full pay also are contemplated.

The next drill of Detachment B will be held Tuesday night, May 31, at the armory. Next week's drill will be held Tuesday due to the Memorial Day holiday on Monday.

Baer Will Wed

Allenton, Va., May 26 (AP)—Jacob Henry "Buddy" Baer, Sugarbush, Calif., former heavyweight boxer, and Miss May Mann, of Hollywood, who was Miss Utah of 1938, were married here today. Buddy, a brother of Max Baer, former heavyweight champion, is 33. He fought Joe Louis twice for the championship, retired from the ring in 1942 and now sings in night clubs and theaters. Miss Mann, 36, is a columnist for Hearst newspapers and movie magazines.

More Than 300 Have Tickets for Senator's Dinner

More than 300 reservations have been made for the dinner to be held at Williams Lake on Thursday evening, June 2, in honor of Senator Arthur H. Wicks, recently elected temporary president and majority leader of the State Senate.

The dinner is sponsored by the Ulster County Republican Central Committee and both men and women of the county are invited to attend to honor Senator Wicks. Time of the dinner will be 7:30 o'clock.

There are still a few tickets available but because of the limited seating capacity immediate reservation is necessary. Reservations may be made by contacting James A. Simpson, secretary of the county committee, at his office in the court house. Mail orders, accompanied by check, should be sent on immediately. Dinner tickets are $4.

With the limit just about reached Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Simpson urges that anyone desiring to attend the dinner notify him now. When the capacity of the dining room is reached no additional tickets will be sold.

Principal speaker at the dinner will be former Senator George R. Featon of Syracuse, who was majority leader of the Senate prior to the time he became a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor some years ago.

Appreciate Teacher's Car
Lawton, Okla., (AP)—Students who have been taught by Miss Lily Stafford—and ridden in her old jalopy—for the past 20 years are going to show their appreciation.

A "Lily Stafford Appreciation Fund" has been started to purchase the Lawton school science teacher a new car. Miss Stafford now is driving "Joan," her 1930 car which has 71,000 miles. "Joan" is still being used by Miss Stafford to carry students to meets and events. She said the car was named after Joan d'Arc because "she has risen to the occasion many times."

Lives Three Years in Well
Sydney, Australia, (AP)—A large brown snake has lived in a well at Marryatville, South Australia, for three years. It fell there when half-grown and home on the roots of trees which have broken the cement walls of the well. The snake's home is about seven feet down and it has no way of escaping. It is in good condition and provides continual debate on how it manages to get food.

Some estimates place losses from worthless checks in the U. S. as high as $300,000,000 a year.

A. W. Todd Dies
Boston, May 26 (AP)—Albert W. Todd, 63, president of United Shoe Machinery Corporation, collapsed and died in his office on Federal street today. Death was ascribed to a heart attack. The big shoe equipment manufacturer has been on trial in federal court here on charges of violating anti-trust laws. Counsel for United Shoe said Todd had not been attending trial sessions.

All firemen taking part in the Memorial Day parade are requested to meet at the fire house at 8:45 o'clock that morning for inspection.

Mrs. Franklin Welker entertained the Monday afternoon bridge club and a few guests at a supper party.

Chapter A, P.E.O., met with Mrs. Myron Hazen Thursday with Miss Lula Clarke assisting hostess. Mrs. Leah Dunlop gave an interesting account of Marlborough's river front in the early days, particularly Jew's creek, where a wild life sanctuary is being planned. She also touched upon Deeper, where Frederic Goudy had his type foundry and many faces of new type were made. Mrs. Harold Lent, president of the chapter and Mrs. A. Herbert Campbell, delegates to the recent state convention held in Buffalo gave their reports of the proceedings. Mrs. Lent returned with the office of state corresponding secretary. Mrs. Campbell, local vice president, presented a memorial to Mrs. Mary Hasbrouck Pratt, founder of Chapter A, 50 years ago. The gift is a painting by James Scott of a Hudson river scene. This picture will hang in the eastern area suite of the new dormitory of Cottey Junior College, Nevada, Mo. This college is owned and operated by P.E.O. It came to the Sisterhood through the gift of its founder, Alice Cottey Stockard. Mrs. Lent's office in the state is the third honor to come to Chapter A. At the convocation in 1927 Mrs. Aurelia Williams Schantz was made vice president. Mrs. Martha Cluett Schantz and Mrs. Katherine Wilcox also have held state offices. Mrs. Lent also will represent Chapter A and two other chapters of the state at the Supreme Chapter convention in Chicago in September. Through the courtesy of James Scott the painting, framed with memorial plaque was on view at Thursday's meeting. Refreshments were served with Mrs. Irving Rathgeb and Mrs. William Lais presiding over the tea table. A non-resident member, Mrs. Edgar Davis, Scituate, Mass., was present. The next meeting, June 2, will be at 7:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Walter R. Seaman when Mrs. Harvey Seaman will be assisting hostess. Miss Elsa Reed will be the guest speaking on "The United Nations." Mr. and Mrs. Irving R. Rathgeb entertained Miss Roberta Russell, Brooklyn, over the week-end.

Motor Manners

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

Mrs. Post's "Motor Manners" is made available to the readers of this newspaper by the National Highway Users Conference, as a public service.

Courtesy in Parking

Q. What rude manners should be avoided in parking?
A. The driver who noses a car into a space about to be occupied by another showed impudent manners. Overtaking parking is a violation of the standards of etiquette. Those who "store" their cars in limited parking places indicate their unwillingness to share their privilege to drive with others. Double parkers are in the same category. It is thoughtless to park in such a position that passengers are forced to squeeze their way past some curbside obstacle.

Courteous drivers neither monopolize space for two parked cars, nor park so close that others are prevented from pulling out. In marked parking places considerate people stay within the lines. They are careful never to block someone else's driveway or a fire plug. Good manners and good sense dictate that vehicles be parked completely off the paved portion of rural highways if possible. On leaving a parking place the driver should give the proper signal and check to see that no other cars are coming.

Efficient Parking

Q. Why is it courteous to learn to park efficiently?
A. A driver's efficiency in parking is proof of the ability to control the vehicle with precision. Drivers are rude and selfish when they hold up other traffic while laboring to get into a parking place. They expose lack of skill as well as lack of manners. To display inept parking technique is somewhat like a discordant amateur musician laboring through a poor performance to everyone's distress.

Printed copies of Emily Post's "Motor Manners" may be secured by writing to The Kingston Daily Freeman, c/o The Bell Syndicate, Inc., 229 West 43rd street, New York, N. Y., and enclosing 5 cents to cover handling and postage. (Copyright 1949, by National Highway Users Conference.)

NEW HURLEY

New Hurley, May 25 — Nancy Willkin underwent an operation recently at the Kingston Hospital.

The Missionary Society of the New Hurley Church met May 19 at the home of Mrs. George Sherwood. The devotion and program for the afternoon were led by Mrs. Alfred Wager on the subject of work of the mission in Chicago, Mex. The president, Mrs. John W. Tyse, took charge of the business meeting. The annual missionary tea will be held in the church Thursday, June 16, at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. John Van Strien of Gardiner will be the speaker. Mrs. Van Strien is a member of the Women's Department of the Board of Foreign Missions. Eighteen members were present at the meeting. At the close refreshments were served. The July meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Emer Fries.

The net proceeds of the Ladies' Aid spring supper held at the church hall May 12 amounted to $126.74.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet with Mrs. Dagmar Nelson Wednesday, June 1, at 2:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Alfred Wager.

Cankerworm Destroying Trees in Ulster County

The cankerworm (commonly called inchworm) which has been devastating the Ramapo Mountain Region to the south, is now defoliating deciduous trees in Ulster and Greene counties, according to Frank L. Miller, Kingston area manager of The F. A. Bartlett Tree Expert Company.

In early April this year the female cankerworm moths emerged from the ground in large numbers and laid many egg masses. They overcame the hazards that might have averted the outbreak which is now under way. The young caterpillars have hatched and survived their first week, and can now be expected to mature except where steps are taken to destroy them.

Except where control measures are taken, they will cause wholesale destruction of beautiful foliage, denuding trees hideously, and seriously impairing their vitality. Defoliation will be followed by increased tree borer activity. In oaks the two lined chestnut borer, in sugar maples borer and in elms the native and European bark borers, notorious as carriers of the Dutch elm disease. The destruction of trees will far exceed the cost of control.

Mr. Miller says "The Bartlett Company has developed STYX... non-injurious to the trees, which will destroy the very young caterpillars when they begin feeding.

Mr. Miller suggests that tree owners look under their trees for little brownish black pieces of fallen excrement, for frayed leaves at the tree tops or for the worms themselves. Any of these signs mean you have them and had best spray as quickly as possible.

Vly Chapel Meetings

Meetings will be held each Sunday evening through the summer at The Vly Chapel under the leadership of Thomas Olson. Service is scheduled at 8 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

Kate Smith says:
"CAIN'S MAYONNAISE is a 3-way WONDER!"

- 1 It's a DRESSING. Brings out delicate flavors of fruits, of salads and sandwiches.
- 2 It's a CONDIMENT. Adds that piquant touch of perfection to meats and fish dishes.
- 3 It's a BLENDER. Makes rich, fluffy sauces, adds smooth heartiness to hot and cold dishes. It's the magic ingredient of that heavenly Mastermix Chocolate Cake!

Pope Asks Pilgrimage

Vatican City, May 26 (AP)—Pope Pius XII called on the Roman Catholic world today to make a pilgrimage of peace to Rome during the 1950 holy year. In a papal bull officially proclaiming the holy year, the 73-year-old pontiff implored that "peace finally return to the hearts of everyone, within domestic walls, in individual nations, in the universal commonwealth of peoples." A gray-haired prelate read the bull in the great portico of the Basilica of St. Peter according to ancient custom.

Woodstock, May 26—Woodstock Artists Association have announced the names of those sponsoring with them the Navajo Indian exhibition at the Art Gallery which will be open to the public Saturday afternoon, June 4 and continue through June 12. A number of prominent out-of-town guests have been invited to attend the opening.

The sponsors include Supervisor Kenneth L. Wilson, Town Clerk Grant Elwyn, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Penning, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morton Robinson, John Pepper, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rosen, Miss Alice Wardwell, Walter S. Van Wagenen, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Berkowitz, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Chavez, Konrad Cramer, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Curry, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Forman, Misses Wilma Hervey, Nan Mason, Elsie Kimball, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hild, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kutzschbach, Michael Linenthal, Mrs. Julia Learycraft, Mrs. Carl Eric Lindin, Howard Mandell, and Daris Lee.

A large public attendance is expected for the opening of the exhibition and sale when a reception will be held and refreshments served. Proceeds from admissions and sales of the articles made by the American Indians will be given to the Child Care Federation for their work among the Indians.

Flag Day Tourney
Draws 40 Entries

Woodstock, May 26—Entries for the Flag Day tournament at the Woodstock Country Club Memorial Day, number between 30 and 40. President Anthony DeLisio promises a very gala week-end beginning with a dance and special entertainment Saturday evening. Shirley Franz of West Hurley and Nick Gentile of Woodstock will be the featured entertainers. They will serenade the guests with their guitar and piano accompaniment. DeLisio was most enthusiastic about a recent audition given these two young performers and stated that they will play and sing on the terrace as well as in the clubhouse itself.

State engineers have inspected the damaged part of the club's premises and their recommendations for correcting the situation will be presented to the board of governors at a meeting to be held at 11 a. m. Saturday. It is possible that a new crib will be necessary as well as a higher retaining wall.

The luncheonette this year will be under the supervision of Mabel Simmons, Kingston and Sally Miller, West Hurley. DeLisio stated that the dining room was attractively decorated and the members could expect fine home cooked food.

Contract Action Is Heard in Court

A contract action brought by Benjamin Goldrich of New York against Mary Isasi of Ellenville was taken up in County Court this morning before Judge John M. Cashin and a jury. The action involves rental of a bungalow last season.

Plaintiff seeks to recover the rental paid for the bungalow which he alleges was not completed in time for the season use. Henry Temes appears for plaintiff and the defendant appeared in person.

Goldrich testified he rented a bungalow for $400 and it was agreed to have the place completed by the latter part of June. He alleges when he came to take possession the place was not completed and he rented another place, agreeing that he would take $350 back when the place was rented by the owner. It was not denied.

Defendant contends the place was ready for occupancy by the latter part of June but that Goldrich declined to take possession and rented another place. He agreed to take $350 if the place was rented, defendant claims. She testified she made every effort to re-rent the place but because of the lateness of the date she was unable to rent it and suggested Mr. Goldrich attempt to rent it himself. She claims she never agreed to refund his rental money but did agree to pay him $350 if the place could be rented during the afternoon.

Boy Runs Into Street, Injured by Automobile

Paul Woinoski, 6, of 70 Murray street suffered injuries of the legs in an automobile accident near his home Wednesday about 5:50 p. m. Walter Francis Murray of 296 Third avenue was the driver of the car, according to the police.

The police report said the boy "was struck by the Murray car" as he ran across a truck parked across the sidewalk at 74 Murray street, and darted into the street.

The boy took the child to the Kingston Hospital where he was treated and X-rayed.

Fifth Ward Area

ings through open plumbing, septic tanks or underground drains leading to the tidal flats.

It is doubtful, it said, "that any practical or economical method could be found that would meet the requirements of the State Department of Health."

4,900 Feet From Plant

The area is 4,900 feet from the sewage treatment plant on East Strand and nine feet lower than the elevation of the plant's influent, the report said, and between the area and the plant is a high point at East Union street of 19.2 feet. It would be necessary to pump sewage from a point at Delaware avenue and North street over this high point through a force main and treatment plant.

The engineer said that plans for the Ponchockie sanitary sewer system prepared by E. I. McCaffery, consulting engineer, are on file, and details are completed in the event the board decides on the project.

A request for a storm drain at Howland and Fairview avenues was held over for further study, after it was revealed that its construction would cost $8,700 and would affect a small area at the intersection of the two streets.

Need for the drain was stressed in a letter from Miss Bertha Waterman, of Howland avenue, read at the April meeting of the board.

Construction of a storm drain "is the only satisfactory solution, and I therefore recommend its construction," the engineer's report said.

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk told members of the board that the area affected was no larger than half the size of his office and he suggested further study.

The engineer said that the city had previously acquired an easement in the area and that another would be necessary. He said, however, that his department was prepared to make surveys, provide the easement and design the sewer if the board decided on the project.

The board authorized payment of $1,636.85 to James Berardi, contractor for grading and electrical work in the building of "a stabilized earth" playground at the M.J.M. School. The project included installation of 17 (1) sports floodlights, and the payment was the final one on the contract.

Another final payment of $344.90 on the $17,245.30 Dunneman avenue sanitary sewer project, completed last year, was authorized. The contractor was V. J. Costanzi, Inc.

The board authorized the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp. to reduce the operating rate of a traffic light at Wurts and Abel streets. An overhead light was erected to replace corner lights on state recommendation, and Mayor Newkirk revealed that he had borrowed the light on a trial basis.

Because of its tropical situation and reliance on monsoon rains, India is more vulnerable to crop failures and famines than any other country in the world.

Act Declared Invalid
Trenton, N. J., May 26 (AP)—The New Jersey Supreme Court today declared unconstitutional the 1946-47 act authorizing state seizure of public utilities involved in labor disputes. In an unanimous decision, the state's highest court ruled the public utility anti-strike law was invalid because it failed to set up standards to guide arbitration authorities in acting under its provisions.

Counter Proposal Offered
Detroit, May 26 (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. today prepared a counter-proposal to the C.I.O. United Auto Workers. In the exchange of the proposals lay the hope for a settlement and the return to work of 100,000 Ford employees as well as undetermined thousands of others affected by the strike. Management planned to lay its proposal before the union at resumed negotiations.

O'Dwyer Sets Off

seek a second term next November and his surprise withdrawal threw the race for the Democratic nomination wide open. Republicans and Fusion forces as well as Democrats had potential candidates galloping. The Democratic mayor told surprised newsmen late yesterday: "I will not be a candidate for reelection as mayor in the coming election."

He refused to elaborate on the statement, or to give any clue to his plans for the future, except to say he would serve out his term which ends next December 31. He laughed off suggestions he might be drafted for another term.

The 58-year-old mayor was treated for a heart condition in the early part of last year; but his health in recent months apparently has been good. There was speculation that he might seek the nomination for U. S. senator to replace the aged and ailing Democratic Senator Robert F. Wagner, who may resign soon. Some thought he might seek the nomination for governor next year.

Also, he was reported to have offers of well-paying positions in private business when his term in the $25,000-a-year mayor post ends. O'Dwyer has had an increasing burden of political woes lately. He has been carrying on a bitter feud with the leadership of Tammany Hall, the Manhattan Democratic organization that supported him for mayor four years ago along with other party county organizations.

Ex-Judge Samuel Seabury, the famed investigator, recently started to rally the old Fusion forces to oppose O'Dwyer and Tammany Hall. Seabury managed the three Fusion campaigns that elected the late Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia.

And Clendenin J. Ryan, multi-millionaire crusader, has been staging a campaign against the mayor and publishing a weekly newspaper attacking his administration.

All in all, the Irish-born mayor's last few months have been about the most hectic he has experienced since he landed here four decades ago.

In picking a Democratic candidate for mayor of the normally Democratic city, the party leaders in the five New York counties will get together.

Among the prominently mentioned as candidates today were: John Cashmore, borough president and party leader of Brooklyn; City Comptroller Lazarus Joseph, a Bronx resident; City Council President Vincent R. Impellitteri; Deputy Mayor John J. Benne; Charles H. Silver, Manhattan business man with friends in Tammany Hall; Manhattan District Attorney Frank S. Hogan, and James J. Lyons, Bronx borough president.

The Democratic picture was muddled by the recent victory of Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., in the congressional election in the 21st Manhattan District. Roosevelt—the Liberal and Four Freedoms parties candidate—won handsily over Tammany, Republican and American Labor party candidates.

Mayor O'Dwyer praised Roosevelt before Tammany denied him the Democratic nomination, and then the mayor kept silent during the bitter campaign.

There were numerous names mentioned for mayor today in Fusion and Fusion ranks.

Up to the time of the mayor's announcement, three names had loomed highest in G.O.P. speculation: Newbold Morris, the No Deal candidate who ran surpris-

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

Just happened to walk into the Senate House Museum the other day to visit with Mrs. Mary Black Terwilliger, the custodian. It was my good fortune to see the Cyclopedia collection of important Vanderlyn portrait paintings, being examined for restoration purposes by Albert Milch, Sr., and Harold Milch, his son, of the famous Milch Galleries of 55 East 57th street, New York city. They were the first galleries on that famous street of art of today. Restoration of paintings is a guarded secret with experts but both Mr. Milch and his son were most gracious in trying to answer my many questions on this most intriguing art.

I asked Mr. Milch the younger, "What's the first thing you do with a dark, somewhat broken background like this?" and he smiled and said, "we examine it for several days so we can best approach its particular problems." Asking Mr. Milch the elder, if it is wise to wash an oil painting with castor oil, and later with soap and water as I have heard done. He answered, "Never with castor oil, just with white soap like Castile or Ivory, with a soft cloth, not brush." The younger Mr. Milch explained that often, when the painting is badly worn or cracked, they glue a special material on the back for support. I asked about retouching if some of the paint is off. "Oh, no," the elder Mr. Milch answered at once. "Then it wouldn't be a Vanderlyn." So I take it no other brush or paint must touch the front of the canvass except the original artist.

Varnishing is also an art not for amateur hands, they explained. Seeing a water-color miniature on celluloid, which I understand will be made up into postal cards, Mr. Milch, the elder recognized immediately as a self-portrait of Vanderlyn, although the celluloid was cracked right down the middle. Mr. Milch took it along to New York and I am now anxious to see how he will restore this most fragile art of long ago.

Dr. Albert B. Corey, the state historian, was down from Albany and also cordially gave me some interesting information on restoration of valuable documents shown in the Governor's Room. Some had been creased for years and stained from years of wear and spilage yet had been washed and straightened out and laminated (as G.I. discharge papers were done right after the war) and mounted in frames for all of us to see and read easily. Just how those precious papers with such famous signatures, as Washington's, could be washed and so cleaned without the loss of the faded signature is an art, no doubt as closely guarded by experts as restoration of oil paintings. I asked Mr. Corey what he thought a Vanderlyn was worth, and he said something to the effect, that he saw a portrait of Aaron Burr (Burr sponsored Vanderlyn as an art student) which was a bit over a foot or so square, in a New York gallery, priced at around $12,000. It is indeed gratifying to know, that our Senate House Museum is open to us all, where we can view Vanderlyn's paintings, now being restored to the same magnificence as when Vanderlyn first applied the fresh brush strokes of delicate paint.

Will Become Secretary

New York, May 26 (AP)—Richard Hays, of Short Hills, N. J., will become secretary of Columbia University on July 1—11 years after he was graduated from the institution, it was announced today. He will succeed Philip M. Hayden, a university staff member for 36 years. Hayden will become secretary emeritus.

O'Toole Declares Bridge Would Be Blow to Defense

Washington, May 26 (AP)—Rep. O'Toole (D-N.Y.) says granting of military permission for construction of a bridge across The Narrows of New York harbor is "a serious blow to national defense."

Gordon Gray, assistant secretary of the army, announced Tuesday he and Maj. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, chief of army engineers, approved plans submitted by the Tri-Borough Bridge and Tunnel Authority for construction of the bridge. It would span the harbor between Staten Island and Fort Hamilton, in Brooklyn.

The bridge would be the world's largest of the suspension type. Its main span would be 4,620 feet long.

O'Toole, in arguing yesterday that the bridge would be detrimental to national defense, also said that the estimate of its cost, $75,000,000 is too low.

He said that the harbor, "busiest in the nation" during both world wars "would be completely blocked" if the bridge should be destroyed by enemy action.

At present, he said, some of the navy's largest battleships are stored either at Bayonne, N. J., or the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

Blocking of the harbor channel through destruction of the bridge, he said, would bar the ships' exit to the sea.

The harbor channel, at the site of the proposed bridge, is less than 300 yards wide, O'Toole said. O'Toole said he would "overlook no opportunity" to oppose construction of the span.

One of Vets Is Released

Rutland, Vt., May 26 (AP)—A sympathetic Tennessee cotton shipper contributed funds that opened the doors of Rutland jail last night for one of three war veterans held under a century-old law for non-payment of court judgments. Ralph D. Fugitt, 33, a combat veteran, was released after spending 62 days in jail.

LEGAL NOTICES

THE ANNUAL MEETING of the Hudson Cemetery Association, Inc., to be held at the cemetery, Mt. Tremper, N. Y., on Monday, May 30, 1949, at 1:30 p. m., daylight saving time, for the purpose of electing trustees and such other business as shall come before the meeting.

JAMES A. SIMPSON, Secretary.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, BY THE GRACE OF GOD FREE AND INDEPENDENT.

TO: RUELLA L. ARNOLD, of 424 South First Ave., Mt. Vernon, N. Y.; GILBERT LOUNSBURY, Brother of the decedent hereinafter named, if he be living, and if not, his next of kin, Administrators, distributees, legatees and devisees, and all persons who, by purchase or inheritance or otherwise, have, or claim to have, an interest in the matter of the probate of the last Will and Testament of CATHERINE E. CHALKER, deceased, or my interest in her estate derived through the said Gilbert Lounsbury, or his Executors, Administrators, distributees, legatees, devisees, or through any of them; the names and Post Office addresses of such Executors, Administrators, distributees, legatees, devisees and other persons, if any there be, being unknown to petitioners; and also all persons who are, or make any claim whatsoever as, Executors or Administrators of any person who may be deceased and who, if living, would have any interest in such matter or estate derived through any or all of the above named people or their distributees, devisees or legatees; the names and Post Office addresses of such persons, if any there be, being unknown to petitioners.

GREETING: YOU AND EACH OF YOU ARE HEREBY CITED TO SHOW CAUSE at a Surrogate's Court to be held in and for the County of Ulster at the Surrogate's Office in the City of Kingston, New York, on the 21st day of May, 1949, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, why a certain instrument in writing, dated March 17, 1949, relating to both real and personal estate, presented to said Surrogate's Court, should not be proved, admitted to probate and recorded as the last Will and Testament of CATHERINE E. CHALKER, late of the City of Kingston, County of Ulster, deceased, upon the petition of Henry D. Ellinger and Cornelia Dewitt, the Executors named therein.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, We have caused the seal of said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. WITNESSES: [L.S.] Hon. JOHN B. STERLEY, Surrogate of said County of Ulster, at Kingston, N. Audit Is Made Saugerties Funds

Mayor George Holmes of Saugerties today revealed that the New York State Audit Company of Albany is making a private audit of that village's finances.

The mayor emphasized that the audit was ordered by him for his own satisfaction and for the good of the village, and not because of any desire to cast suspicion on former village officers or previous auditors.

"I think it is a good idea to have an independent audit made when a new administration takes over and when a new village clerk takes office," he said.

A report circulated in Saugerties to the effect that the mayor "made an inferential remark about a village official who resigned," was branded as unfounded by Mayor Holmes. Referring to the village board meeting Monday night at which time a revealed he had engaged the auditing firm, Mayor Holmes said, "I didn't make any charges against anyone."

The auditors came to work Tuesday and are still at work over the village books, he said. He declined to make comment on their findings until the task is completed.

This independent audit, the mayor said, will not cost the village a cent, but is being financed by himself and one trustee. The firm of Ronder and Ronder of Kingston is the regular village auditing firm working under contract with the board of trustees.

Strike Hits Papers

Meadville, Pa., May 26 (AP) — The Meadville Tribune Co., publishers of morning and afternoon newspapers, today was hit by a strike of printers. Members of Local A.F.L. International Typographical Union stopped work after today's morning edition was printed. The printers, who get $1.81 an hour for day work and $1.91 an hour for night work, demand a 16-cent hourly raise and three weeks vacation. An alternate demand is for a 21-cent hourly raise with a two weeks vacation. Printers also demand a night differential of eight per cent. The strike was called when company and union failed to agree on the procedure for submitting the issues to arbitration.

Vill Probe B-36 Purchase

Washington, May 26 (AP) — Salmon Vinson (D-Ga.) announced today there will be "a thorough and searching investigation" of the B-36 bomber purchase program by the House Armed Services Committee. He said he will request the inquiry at a full committee meeting next Tuesday. The veteran Georgia lawmaker made his announcement as a Republican member of his committee asked the House to set up a special committee to do the same job.

Late Bulletin

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 26 (AP) — John J. Gartland, president of the Poughkeepsie Recreational Commission, said today no deal had been completed for the purchase of the Poughkeepsie franchise in the Class B Colonial Baseball League from owner Louis Baselice.

Gartland, who described himself as a mediator in the effort to dispose of the Poughkeepsie franchise, was commenting on a statement by Promoter Dick Cook indicating the Chiefs had been sold.

Cook said in Torrington, Conn., yesterday he had been informed a Poughkeepsie group had taken over the franchise and would continue to operate the team here.

Gartland said Baselice would confer at 10 a. m. Saturday with some Poughkeepsie people who are to advise him then whether they have raised the $15,000 which Baselice is asking for the franchise.

Because of lack of patronage, Baselice has said he would sell the franchise or dispose of his players and return it to the league.

Like pickles? If you do, read on and enjoy yourself.

Pickle Chicken Salad

(4 servings)

Two cups cooked cubed chicken, 2 chopped hard-cooked eggs, 1 1/2 cups diced celery, 1/4 cup chopped cross-cut sweet pickles, 1/4 cup mayonnaise, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, lettuce.

Combine chicken, eggs, celery and pickles; mix well. Add mayonnaise, salt and pepper. Mix together thoroughly. Chill. Serve on beds of crisp lettuce. Garnish with whole pickle slices.

Pickle Pizza Pies

(6 servings)

Six tablespoons tomato paste, 3 tablespoons Italian-style grated cheese, 3 tablespoons sweet pickle relish, 1 small garlic clove, minced, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 6 English muffins, butter or fortified margarine.

Combine tomato paste, cheese, pickle relish, garlic and salt; blend well. Cut English muffins in half cross-wise and spread with butter or margarine. Spread tomato mixture on halves of English

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, parsley omelet, enriched toast, butter or fortified margarine, strawberry jam, coffee, milk.

OR LATE SNACK: Cold cuts, cheese, sweet gherkins, dill and cucumber pickles, rye bread, poppy seed rolls, butter or fortified margarine, tossed green salad, tangy dressing, chocolate cake, tea (iced or hot), milk.

DINNER: Salmon ring with tomato sauce, steamed rice, green beans, enriched rolls, butter or fortified margarine, watercress and romaine salad, French dressing, molded strawberry gelatin, light cream, sponge cake, coffee, milk.

An easy meal can be put together in record time with cold cuts, Swiss cheese, pickles, man-size cups of coffee, enriched rye bread and poppy seed rolls plus a hearty tossed green salad mixed with a real Tangy Salad Dressing for extra zip.

splattered against some of the structures. A few bullets punctured them. Two bullets landed in U. S. Consul General John Cabot's bedroom in the Glenline building.

But so far the only known foreign casualty was a British subject, R. P. Verenberg, wounded in a street near the American Consulate. All Americans, as far as Cabot could learn, were safe.

This was the pattern of the battle of Shanghai on the second day of the Communist occupation.

The Nationalist holdout defenders had the bridges. They covered the avenues which lead to Woosung through Hongkew, the part of Shanghai north of Soochow creek. The Nationalists had guns and snipers in many buildings.

The Communist attackers were inching forward on the south side of the creek, the area that used to be the international settlement. In some places they had reached Peking road and the very approaches to the bridges. At others they were three blocks away.

The Nationalist stand was incredible. Sooner or later they were certain to be flanked from upstream.

Behind these Nationalists, the garrison evacuation continued northward from Hongkew. Since Tuesday night the government troops have been moving towards Woosung, hoping evacuation ships would be waiting. What their chances were was hard to say.

All last night the Communists kept their big guns pounding against this escape corridor that fringes the Whangpoo river all the way to the Yangtze and the sea.

From the heart of Shanghai, the northern horizon was aflame. The Nationalists blew up oil, gasoline and ammunition dumps.

When they blew up supplies at Kiangwan military airfield midway between Shanghai and Woosung, it became obvious they had no thought of a last stand. All they were doing was trying to slow up the Reds.

Inside and outside of Shanghai, it was a night of fighting and blasting like none during the three-week siege of the city.

Lilienthal Says

a bottle of Uranium-235 from an atomic laboratory.

Lilienthal said the commission is "happy that this committee provide an opportunity for the A.E.C. to render a full and complete accounting of its important and serious stewardship."

He said it will give the country an opportunity not only to appraise the "grave charges" that have been made as to the commission's "mistakes and inadequacies," but also the "accomplishments."

Lilienthal said he believes a "full accounting can be made" to the country without the revelation of any atomic secrets. But he said some testimony would have to be given behind closed doors, rather than at public hearings.

The A.E.C. chairman said he is concerned that the charges may affect the confidence of the people in the country's state of atomic readiness. He said they have affected the morale of scientists and university and civilian contractors of the commission.

Dr. Voss Addresses Phoenicia Group

Dr. Fred H. Voss, secretary of the Ulster County Medical Society and a director of the Ulster County Public Health and Tuberculosis Association, spoke to the Parent
Teachers organization in Phoenicia at its regular May meeting.
His topic was "The Influence of the Glands of Internal Secretion on Physical Development of the Child."

Dr. Voss used photo slides to illustrate his talk showing how Creating for dwarfs are formed as well as the opposite type or giantism.
The influence of the glands were shown to illustrate the various types of physique including the thin child, the fat or chubby child, with its various forms of fat distribution. Also shown were results after treatment with proper gland medication. Following the talk a question period was held.

The meeting was largely attended with members invited from Chichester and Alabam.

Mrs. Philip Gordon, president of the Phoenicia group, introduced the speaker. Dr. Voss was born in Phoenicia, was graduated from the Phoenicia grade school and attended Ulster Academy in Kingston. He taught school in Phoenicia for three years, two of which was principal of the Phoenicia school.

He then decided to study medicine as a profession and was graduated from Long Island Medical College in 1918. He immediately entered service in World War 1 and afterward spent ten years in private practice. Dr. Voss then went to Vienna, Austria, for study.
He specialized in internal medicine and obtained his fellowship in the American College of Physicians in 1930. He continued postgraduate study at the New York University and Columbia University and obtained his certificate as a diplomate of the American Board of Internal Medicine in 1937.

Dr. Voss has been chief of the medical department of the Bone-dictine Hospital in Kingston since 1930. He was a commissioner of health in Kingston for 11 years and always has been interested in public health. He makes his home in Phoenicia and has retired from active practice.

Musical Society Has Guest Night Program Of English Music

The Musical Society entertained at its annual open meeting
Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Arthur F. Sheldon, 194 West Chestnut street. A program of early English music was given using madrigals, piano, harp, violin and vocal solos and a quintet instrumental ensemble. Approximately 50 members and their guests attended.

The program was arranged by Mrs. Sheldon, Miss Helen Sheldon,
Mrs. Florence Cubberly and Mrs.
Clyde E. Wonderly. Mrs. LeRoy
Vogt, president of the society, welcomed those attending and introduced Mrs. Wonderly who gave a resume of early music history and explained some of the compositions and lives of the composers used in the musical program.

Mrs. Wonderly recalled the beginnings of music and the development of the use of musical instruments. She noted that the early 17th century was important and has been called the Golden Age of Song when music passed from the medieval to modern times. Concerned with England she spoke of the early composers for the Virginals, lutes and other early instruments and part songs.

English households of the period would often keep a box of musical instruments near the door so that visitors could amuse themselves if the host or hostess happened to be busy for a few minutes. Instrumental ensembles were favorites
among the people. Mrs. Wonderly pointed out that Pepy's in his famous diary has recorded that he took his fiddle to lunch with him so he could practice. Singing also was important and if a person could not read music for singing, he was sadly lacking in education.

The composers in general were famous in the day and usually composed for the church and the royal families. Many were professors whose songs and compositions are easily found today but about whose lives little remains for a biographical background. The theatre was coming into its own and many of the men wrote music for it. Thomas Augustus Arne was best known and appreciated for his theatre music. Other well-known composers of the day were Henry Purcell, William Byrd, John Bull, Orlando Gibbons, Thomas Morley and Henry Carey, who wrote Sally in Our Alley and God Save the King.

The musical program was as follows: Madrigals, Adieu Sweet Amarillis, John Wilbye, With Drooping Wings from "Dido and Aeneas", Henry Purcell, and Now is the Month of Maying, Thomas Morley sung by Miss Helen Shelton, Mrs. Henry Dunbar, Mrs.
Roger Frederburgh, and Mrs.
Harry C. Seitz under the direction of Mrs. Dunbar. Piano solos—
The Carman's Whistle, William

Byrd, The King's Hunt, John Bull, The Queen's Command, Orlando Gibbons, played by Mrs. Le-Roy Vogt.

Harp solos—First Harpischord
Suite, and the adagio from The Golden Sonata by Purcell, played by Miss Sheldon; violin solos—
Adagio and Corrente, Eccles, and Toccata, Praeludio, played by Mrs. Cubberly accompanied by Mrs. Lester Decker; piano solos for left hand—Courante in C Major, John Bull, A Toccata and The New Sa-Hoo by Farnby, played by Mrs. Sheldon; Songs, The Plague of Love by Dr. Arne with violin obligato by Mrs. Cubberly; and A Pastoral, Carey, sung by Miss Turner. Mrs. Decker at the piano.
The quintet composed of Miss Sheldon, harp; Mrs. Amos New-combe, clarinet; Mrs. Cubberly, violin; Mrs. Suzanne Langer, cello;
and Mrs. Decker, piano; played The Silver Swan, Orlando Gibbons; and In These Delightful Pleasant Groves, Purcell.

Following the program refreshments were served. Hostesses were Mrs. John Snyder, Miss Dorothea Groves, Mrs. LeRoy
Wood, Mrs. Henry Dunbar and Mrs. Walter T. Tremper. The table was arranged with a centerpiece of pink blossoms and candles. Mrs. Dunbar poured.

The next meeting, the final one for the club year, will be June 3, at the home of Mrs. Newcombe.

Warsaw Pushes Rebuilding
Warsaw, Poland, (26)—Poland's capital, rising rapidly anew from wartime ruins is pushing a big new building program this year calling for expenditures of $61-500,000. Warsaw's population now is over 1,289,000. Despite the acute housing shortage, Poles from all over the land who lived here before the war are continuing to flock back to this city. It is not uncommon to find four or five persons living in a single room.

Colonials Edge Bristol in 11th, 7-6; Chiefs Play Here Tonight

Oliveri Delivers Deciding Single; Demeri Is Winner

Manager Julie Laviano's Kingston Colonials continued their uphill fight for a higher berth in the Class B Colonial League Wednesday night with an 11-inning 7 to 6 squeaker win over the Bristol Owls in Bristol. The loss knocked the Owls out of first place.

The big heroes of the night were Johnny Elenchin, Frank Oliveri and Frank Demeri. Elenchin and Oliveri combined to deliver the payoff wallop in the 11th inning while Demeri, the strong-armed righthander, nipped up after Danny Rourke had been belted out after pitching six scoreless innings.

Elenchin opened the 11th with a single, scampored to second on Glenn Bird's wild pitch and raced home with the deciding run on Oliveri's single. Demeri then held the Owls in check in the bottom half of the inning to rack up the big victory.

Home Tonight

The Colonials, who return to municipal stadium tonight to battle the Poughkeepsie Chiefs in a single night stand, opened fast against Jack Early with single runs in the first and second. They sent Early to the showers with a cluster of three in the fifth and Larry Cauvell came on to put out the fire.

Rourke, who had held the Owls scoreless for the first six sessions, was kayoed in the seventh when the Owls shoved across three runs to make it a 5-3 game. The Colonials added another in the eighth making it 6-3 but the Owls still fought back and knotted the count with a run in the eighth and two in the ninth.

After a scoreless 10th, the Colonials pushed over the deciding marker in the 11th. Johnny Elenchin, Kingston's sparkling centerfielder, and Pete Elko, who seems to have shrugged his early season slump, led the Colonials with three hits apiece. McNamara, Ralph Matzer and Rourke each collected a pair of singles.

Demeri, Manager Laviano's No. 1 pitching mainstay, turned in another remarkable job last night. In his relief stint the rookie right-hander whiffed six, walked two and allowed five hits in his four and two-thirds innings on the hill.

Colonials Buy New Outfielder

Dan Perlmutter, lefthanded hitting outfielder who batted .370 for the Stamford Pioneers during the 1947 season, has been purchased by Ted Laviano, business manager of the Kingston Colonials.

The purchase of Perlmutter should give us a lot of extra speed," Ted said in announcing the acquisition. Perlmutter stole 40 bases in the Colonial League in 1947.

The New York city speed merchant who was purchased from the Harrisburg club of the Interstate League, hit .303 for Tacoma of the Western-International League in 1948 and stole 30 bases.

Perlmutter is expected to join the Colonials in time for tonight's game at the stadium against Poughkeepsie.

Randall's 78 Paces KHS Golf Victory

Leon Randall fired a brilliant 78 as Kingston High's crack golf squad continued undefeated this week with a 15-0 rout of Poughkeepsie High on the Wiltwyck links.

Charlie Bostic, No. 5 man on Russ Cunningham's roster, was a close second with 79. Dick Javenport had an 82. Wells and Cleason were unable to complete their matches as the Bridge City linksmen had to return home early.

Kingston plays in Liberty today and then is at home on June 1 at Wiltwyck. The public is cordially invited.

Randall spliced identical rounds of 39 for his 78. Bostic had a 39 and 40.

High Falls Juniors Rout Stone Ridge, 11-5

High Falls Juniors routed Stone Ridge, 11-5, Tuesday for their sixth straight baseball victory and their ninth conquest in ten games this season.

The winners clubbed R. Kozian and F. Spongia for 19 safeties, including three hits each by A. Hudson, L. Coddington, J. Smith and K. Smith. Feth knocked in six runs for the winners with a triple and single.

K. Smith throttled the Fiddgers with six scattered hits and struck out 11 batters. W. Schmitt and P. Johnson each had two hits for Stone Ridge.

A seven run rally in the fifth tied the game for the Juniors, who led off with three tallies in the first.

The score: Stone Ridge 111 002 000—5 6 4
High Falls 310 070 11x—13 19 3
R. Kozian, F. Spongia and W. Osterhoudt; K. Smith and E. Nagles.

Plan Eight-Team Travelling Major Bowling League

An eight-team traveling major bowling league, the first of its kind ever attempted in Kingston, is in the making for the 1949-50 season, according to a communication from John MacLellan, Major League president.

Seven of the eight team captains of the 1948-49 Major League which rolled at the Central Recreation on Thursday nights met recently and voted to bowl on Saturday nights at three local establishments—Ruzzo's, Ferraro's and Sangi's.

The entire league of eight teams would move from one alley to the other on Saturdays at 7 p. m. Two of the alleys, MacLellan said, have approved the new arrangement, while the third is seeking to adjust the schedule with previous commitments.

180 Minimum

A minimum average of 180 will be required for all bowlers in the league. An organizational meeting is set for August with the schedule due to open early in September.

The seven captains who approved the new setup were Charlie Grunenwald, Home Leaders; Larry Petersen, Sr., Hymes Shoes; Herb Van Deusen, Mickey's; George Flemings, Wiltwyck Motors; Harold Broskie, Town Cafe; John Schatzel, Progress Clothes; Ken Williams, Jones Dairy; John Sangi, Hofbrau.

Red Track Captain

Ithaca, N. Y., May 26 (AP)—Robert G. Hunt of New Rochelle will captain Cornell University's 1950 track team. Hunt, a 100-yard dashman and low hurdler, was elected yesterday. He was the Big Red's top pointmaker this year, with 76 1/2 in seven meets.

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

By The Associated Press

By JACK HAND, Associated Press Sports Writer

Flop is the word for Cleveland's first eastern trip despite the long distance clouting of Larry Doby.

Only the home run hitting of the talented Negro outfielder saved the Tribe from complete disaster. He couldn't do it all.

The world champions left their lake shore wigwag May 11 after whipping the New York Yankees in a night game. They were in second place. No matter what happens tonight when they wind up their tour at Washington, they'll go home in seventh place. No wonder Bill Veck wants to start the season all over again.

Nuts Belt Tribe

They have a 2-6 record against the Red Sox, Yankees, A's and Senators. Doby took care of one victory all by himself with a 450-foot plus homer, believed by many to be the longest ever hit at Yankee Stadium.

Last night Cleveland lost again, although Doby hit another.

Tommy Fisher's neat one-hit hurling and two big scoring innings gave Jones Dairy victory No. 1 in the City League Wednesday night over Fred Davy's Boulevard Gulf nine at the Athletic Field. The final score was 16 to 0 in an abbreviated five inning game.

Fisher, bent on entering the loop's Hall of Fame, just about had it in his vest pocket until Mauro, the Boulevard first sacker, cracked a double to right in the fifth to spoil the no-hit bid.

For Fisher, it was an easy task to register the lop-sided victory. Touched for only one hit, Fisher

Ben Toffel Hurls
Two-Hit Victory

Ben Toffel, the veteran softball flinger, turned in a neat two-hit Wednesday night as the B'nai B'rith team blanked Jesse's Tavern 12 to 0. The winners cracked out 20 hits.

In a pitcher's battle, the Subway Grill edged out a 2 to 1 win over the A. D. Rose club at Hasbrouck Park. Bigger allowed the losers three hits while the Subway picked up five off Hooker.

Miron Lumber made it four in a row by trouncing Barclays to the tune of 24 to 2. The winners collected 31 hits to win going away. Friedman, Turay and Ebel heiser worked for the losers.

Bill Dunn, after allowing two runs on three hits in the first inning, settled down and scattered two hits for the rest of the distance. He fanned one, and failed to issue a walk.

Included in the 31 base hits were four triples and six doubles.

Joe Norton also poked a homer for the winners.

Score by innings:

Miron Lumber . 151 513 8—24 31
Barclays 200 600 0—2 5
In another free-hitting game, the Royal Grill took the measure of Montgomery and Ward by 9 to 4 at Black Hawk. Joe Enright hurled the win while Doyle worked for the losers.

Score by innings:

Mont. Ward . . . 210 001 0—4 9
Royal Grill . . . 202 320 x—9 9

Torrington, Conn., May 26 (AP)—A conference scheduled here yesterday between baseball promoter Dick Cook and owner Louis Baselle of the Poughkeepsie, N. Y., franchise in the Class B Colonial Baseball League was not held.

Cook and Baselle for several days have been discussing terms for the possible transfer of the franchise from Poughkeepsie to Torrington.

Cook said he had received a telegram from Baselle stating that a local group at Poughkeepsie had taken over the franchise and would continue to operate the team there.

Baselle was quoted late last week as saying he either would sell the franchise within the next 10 days or dispose of his players and return the franchise to the league. He blamed lack of patronage for his desire to retire from the league.

ROSENDALE NEWS

Block Party June 1

Rosendale, May 26—Plans are rapidly taking shape for the gala block party to be held Wednesday evening, June 1, on James street, between South and Brown streets. The dance is being sponsored by the Musicians' Union, Local 215, through the courtesy of the national recording and transcription fund. The music will be furnished by a 12-piece orchestra, under the direction of James Sweeney. Several organizations and merchants are assisting with arrangements. The refreshment booth will be in charge of the Women's Club, with Mrs. Joseph Hill as chairman of the committee in charge.

Missionary Meeting

Rosendale, May 26—The Missionary Society of the Rosendale Dutch Reformed Church will hold its regular meeting on Wednesday, June 1, at 8 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Peter LoBello, Jr. The group will continue discussion on the book "Let's Act—Now!" by Richard T. Baker. Mrs. Harold Forry will act as hostess.

School Meeting

Rosendale, May 26—The Rosendale Union Free School Association will meet on Wednesday, June 1, at 8 p. m. in the school. One of the important matters to come up for discussion is the need for additional funds to finance the educational bus trip to New York by the upper grades of the school. The meeting will adjourn at an early hour to permit attendance at the block dance.

Memorial Service

Rosendale, May 26—At the regular meeting of Rosendale Grange 1501 Monday evening a very impressive memorial service was held in memory of deceased members, Rose Hasbrouck, Clifford Cooper and Joseph Oerhleim.

Participating in the service were the chaplain, Mrs. Harry Baxter, assisted by Mrs. Cornelius Holting and Mrs. Edward McCallrey. Worthing Master George Mollenhauer gave a short memorial address. "There Is No Death" was read by Mrs. George Mollenhauer, and Mrs. Peter LoBello, Jr. sang "Beyond the Sunset." There was a short business meeting, followed by refreshments and a social hour.

Personals

Rosendale, May 26—Mrs. John Markle of Tillson entertained at a party in honor of her daughter, Patricia's fifth birthday, at her home on Thursday. The guests enjoyed an afternoon of games, after which refreshments were served, including a large birthday cake. Present were Alpha Dunn and Margaret Geiselman of Rosendale; Ralea Gene Kukuens, Sandra Phillips, Robert DuBois and Harry Markle of Tillson; Mary Frances Joney of Kingston; Paullet and Renee Spithas of New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. William Tobin have returned to their home in Tillson after spending the winter in New York.

Guest of Mrs. John Munkle on Sunday was her cousin, Mrs. Emma DuBois of Kingston. Mrs. DuBois is contemplating an airplane trip to Seattle, Wash., in the very near future, where she will spend several weeks as the guest of her son and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morrell and daughters, Mary Jane and Frances of Woodhaven, L. I. were week-end guests of Mrs. Morrell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Miller of Springtown road.

Held on Murder Charge

Cumberland, Md., May 26 (AP)—A 16-year-old boy who said he got up from a bad dream and shot his brother and sister-in-law was being held here today on a charge of murder. The sister-in-law, 18-year-old Mrs. Katherine Brewster, died yesterday of two shotgun wounds in the neck. Her 23-year-old husband, Thomas, was shot in the leg. State's Attorney Morgan C. Harris said the youth, Randolph Brewster, told him he "had a bad dream" while sleeping Wednesday afternoon in his brother's modest home on the outskirts of Cumberland. "When I got awake I was scared," young Brewster's statement continued. "Something told me to get the gun, and I got it and shot him and she jumped up and screamed and I shot her."

Suggestions Given For Safe Driving

Albany, May 26—State Safety Director Thomas W. Ryan today voiced the hope that the people of the state would memorialize the first holiday of the summer season through "extreme caution in the operation of motor vehicles." Ryan pointed out that, in the past, Memorial Day has unfortunately served as a starting date for the vehicular slaughter which takes place on our highways every year.

His suggestions were: "Be certain that your car is in a safe mechanical condition. Your life, and the lives of those around you, is too valuable to risk on a car made unsafe by neglect.

"Have your lights checked, both your headlights and your tail lights. And do not forget to dim your headlights when approaching an oncoming automobile.

"If you are traveling a long distance, particularly at night, make regular stops to relax and stretch. This will speed up your reflexes.

"And, finally, check your tires high on the accident cause list.

Tires worn smooth add to the stopping distance which you will require in an emergency and increase likelihood of dangerous blowouts."

Attend Convention

Joseph Saccaman and Frank Reis left today for Syracuse where they will attend the annual Knights of Columbus convention as representatives of Kingston Council.
